

TO HONOR

RONALD J. DEPAUL

1921 - 1999

LIEUTENANT, U. S. ARMY AIR FORCES

Ronald DePaul was a fighter pilot during World War II. He graduated in Flying Class 44B at Luke Air Force Base in Arizona. He flew combat in the European Theater in support of the U. S. Army in 1944 and 1945 over France and Germany. He flew the P-47 aircraft in the 313th Squadron of the 50th Fighter Group. After the war he had a career as a petroleum geologist in the oil fields of East Texas. His wife's name was Carol and they raised one son, Gilbert.

By Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Grice